

THE ALL KINDS OF MINDS

IMPACT MODEL

A GUIDE FOR UNDERSTANDING
PROGRAM ACTIVITIES, OUTCOMES,
AND ULTIMATE IMPACT

ACTIVITIES

Equipping educators across the US, Canada and Europe:

- Understanding Learning and Learners Workshop
- Teaching All Kinds of Minds Course
- Schools Attuned to All Kinds of Minds Institute
- On-site and E-Learning Tools for Success Modules
- Online Community for Learning

OUTCOMES

With a new framework of knowledge and tools to support student learning:

Educators...

- Gain expertise in differences in learning
- Make instructional decisions based on a neurodevelopmental understanding of the curriculum and of students as learners
- Leverage students' strengths and interests as pathways to school success
- Collaborate around student learning using a neurodevelopmental understanding

Students...

- Understand their strengths, weaknesses, and interests
- Actively engage in their learning
- Build confidence in their abilities
- Achieve success as learners

Schools...

- Strengthen culture and climate through a respect for neurodevelopmental diversity
- Build alliances with families to support student learning
- Incorporate a neurodevelopmental approach into their policies and practices

ULTIMATE IMPACT

Students who once struggled due to learning differences are understood and supported, and able to experience success in school.
